

100% Vegetarian from inside OUT

Vegetarian-aware consumers make up 25% of the U.S. population. That means that over 70 million people or one in four Americans like you, are making vegetarian-aware choices each day. And 65% of you acknowledge the benefits of taking regular, dietary supplements. However, few vitamin manufacturers have been able to provide you with true vegetarian supplements. We can and we do.

In addition to providing high-quality, plant-derived ingredients for those products suitable for vegetarians, we are also proud to use Vcaps®, an all-natural, 100% vegetarian, two-piece capsule made entirely from plant-based fiber called vegetable cellulose for all of our encapsulated products instead of using the industry standard gelatin capsules from animal by-products.

So when it comes to being 100% vegetarian from inside out, trust Bluebonnet Nutrition. We believe that providing vegetarian capsules is just as important as the natural ingredients they protect. For true vegetarian choices, look for Bluebonnet products with our vegetarian seal  proudly displayed on the front of our label. It's your guarantee of 100% vegetarian through and through.
